

INVOCATION TO THE INFANTRY

Long years ago,
Before man had learned to fly
Or even sail the Seas.
On the bloody field of man's first battle,
There was born the Infantry.

And once again
On the broad plain of Armageddon,
On the grand day of Rangarok,
When all the machines have died,
And naked steel and the human will
Will take the day,
There you will find the Infantry.
God bless the Infantry!
Queen of Battle!
Long may she reign!

*Sergeant First Class Kevin Burns
Company B, 5th Battalion, 16th Infantry
Fort Riley, Kansas*