

MARINE CORPS DETACHMENT
FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

FAMILY READINESS

Dear families of the Detachment,

On behalf of myself, and our Commanding Officer Major Long, we would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to our family. My name is First Sergeant Shawn L. Campbell, and I am your Uniformed Readiness Coordinator. My role is to provide family readiness support to all Marines and their family members, which includes:

- Official Communications
- Readiness and Resources Support
- Volunteer Management

The goal of the Commanding Officer's Family Readiness program is to provide support to Marines, Sailors, and their families. Family is defined as all members of a Marine's family, and Marines have three families: the family they are born into, sworn into and married into. Family support shall be provided to service members (regardless of marital status), spouses, children, and the designated parents/extended family members of Marines and Sailors. Personal and Family readiness leads to an increase in unit readiness.
